

Anita Najdenkoska, Principal Investigator for JRU-METROFOOD-MK, senior food researcher, Head of Department for Contaminants and Ecotoxicology, M.Sc in Food Safety and Quality, Specialist in Sanitary Chemistry. She has a proven experience in chemical Metrology and food quality and safety analysis. Her technical skill and competence are working on sophisticated analytical equipment like High Pressure Liquid Chromatography and Gas Chromatography. She is authorized TrainMIC event organizer (Training in Metrology in Chemistry, European Commission, DG Joint Research Centre), as well as TrainMiC authorized trainer for the metrological requirements of the ISO/IEC 17025. She is a Member of IMEKO (International Measurement Confederation), from 2011. She has been an author and co-author of articles related to food safety and quality; method validation, proficiency testing. She has been involved in several national and international projects.

